UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

2022–2023
CALENDAR FOR BADGER FAMILIES

Welcome (and welcome back), Badger families!

Whether your student is experiencing UW–Madison for their first or fourth year, you play an important role in their personal and academic success. We offer many resources to assist your student and you and are excited to partner with you through the Parent and Family Program.

The Parent and Family Program team will connect you with information and answer your questions during your student's time at UW. You'll have a chance to connect with their team and other families through in-person events, newsletters, online chats, a dynamic website, and more. We want you to feel connected and informed — the Parent and Family Program is your liaison.

With an abundance of activity at UW, you might wonder how to help your student keep track — this calendar can help. Here you'll find campus photos, helpful facts, and key dates to experience the diversity and breadth of opportunity our campus offers.

It takes a community working together to truly thrive. We are committed to working with your students to help them be safe, healthy, and successful, and we can't wait to partner with you this year.

Let the journey begin.

On, Wisconsin!

Institutional Statement on Diversity

Diversity is a source of strength, creativity, and innovation for UW-Madison. We value the contributions of each person and respect the profound ways their identity, culture, background, experience, status, abilities, and opinion enrich the university community. We commit ourselves to the pursuit of excellence in teaching, research, outreach, and diversity as inextricably linked goals. The University of Wisconsin-Madison fulfills its public mission by creating a welcoming and inclusive community for people from every background—people who as students, faculty, and staff serve Wisconsin and the world.

Dear Badger Family,

Welcome to the University of Wisconsin-Madison! You are a valued member of our community.

At UW-Madison, we recognize that parents and family members are important partners. Research shows that family involvement is critical to the success of college students. We appreciate the key role you play as a coach and mentor, while you encourage your student to progressively take on more responsibility.

The Parent and Family Program is your resource. No question is too big or too small. Our program is here to connect you to the university so that you feel welcomed, informed, and able to support your student's success.

This calendar is our gift to you. We invite you to use this information to help your student take advantage of all that UW-Madison has to offer. You will be mailed a new calendar each year until your student graduates.

The Parent and Family Program is committed to offering personalized service to help you and your student navigate our campus and community. In addition to this calendar, we provide:

- Phone (1-877-262-3977) and email (parent@uwmad.wisc.edu) services to help answer your questions and concerns
- A comprehensive and dynamic website (parent.wisc.edu)
- The Badger Family e-newsletter, published five times per year
- A parent-notice system, used to deliver critical information by email
- A variety of visit opportunities, including Family Weekend, showcasing our campus and offering events for the entire family
- Multi-language services, including a Spanish-language website, email, and phone line, and a Chinese-language website
- A Facebook page and group, where parents can ask questions and share experiences with one another
- Topic-based online chats with answers from campus experts
- An informative handbook for families of first-year and incoming students at parent.wisc.edu

On behalf of all of the Parent and Family Program staff, we thank you for all you do and we look forward to connecting with you.

Kind regards,

Stephanie Benson-Gonzales

Our Goals for Parents & Families

1. To recognize your important role as mentors and coaches. You help your students progressively take on more responsibility for their academics, out-of-classroom experiences, and all other aspects of their lives.
2. To have an open dialogue with your students about ways to promote personal health and balance, including coping with stress, alcohol/drugs, nutrition, sleep, exercise, and relationships. You empower your students to identify problems, develop plans, and work toward solutions independently.
3. To understand that there are limitations regarding access to specific student information as outlined in the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA).
4. To know about and take advantage of opportunities to engage with the campus and surrounding community.
5. To generate goodwill for the university by helping spread the word about the resources and discoveries at UW-Madison, which impact both your students and society at large. Parents and families advocate for personal, state, and federal investments in higher education.
